

Honour Walks

Go for a walk for the Poppy Appeal

Honour Walks are a fun new way to raise money for former and current Service people. Whether you walk around the local park or up a mountain, you can help The Royal British Legion raise £100,000 to go towards projects such as:

- our Battle Back Centre, a new facility for enhancing the recovery of wounded, injured and sick Service personnel through sport and adventure training; and
- Personnel Recovery Centres providing accommodation and help with rehabilitation and recovery.

Many of our troops serving in Afghanistan are very young, and the horrific injuries and mental trauma that some suffer can last the rest of their lives. They and their families will need a lifetime of care and support and the money you raise will enable us to be there for them now and for the rest of their lives.

What you can do

It's easy to organise an Honour Walk and our Organisers Pack provides everything you'll need whether your walk is just a group of friends or your whole community. Simply follow these stages and links:

Plan

We've prepared a handy timetable of what to do in advance, including choosing the route, thinking about your income and expenditure and considering any risks.

Promote

Getting people to take part in your walk is key, so here are some tips for spreading the word and getting everyone talking about it.

As well as traditional media, social media is a great way to create a buzz around an event, and setting up a Facebook page or Twitter account takes a matter of minutes. Don't forget to contact your local Community Fundraiser who will put you in touch with your local Legion Branch.

Fundraise

It's quick and safe to fundraise and collect donations online, with our guides to setting up a page on Virgin Money Giving or JustGiving, you'll be raising money in no time.

If you'd also like to raise money in the traditional way, or you'd prefer not to use the internet, we've provided a sponsorship form that you can print out. Look at our A-Z of Fundraising for hints and tips of other ways to fundraise.

Walk!

We've also supplied a registration form, badges for the walkers and a certificate for celebrating their success once they've finished.

After the walk

When you've had a well-deserved cup of tea and a sit down, don't forget to look at the 'After the walk' section of the walk organiser's timeline and ensure you get those funds in.
