

OBITUARY

JOHN UTTING ? - 2019

I learned recently of the death of John Utting, of Burnham Market and previously Burnhams branch; he died on 12th September. We send our condolences to his family.

John Utting pictured alongside the new memorial
Acknowledgements to North Norfolk News.

Mr Reginald (John) Utting of Burnham Market joined us from the Burnhams branch when it closed a few years ago. He was pictured in the local newspapers last November, when the Harold Moorhouse Charity, of which he was a trustee, installed the 'soldier silhouette' memorial outside St Mary's church in Burnham Market, to mark the centenary of the armistice ending the Great War. Mr Utting, aged 95, is an Army veteran

- a gunner who was one of the first British soldiers to meet the Russians during the Second World War.